

Dr Thomas Crabtree

Specialism: Diabetes

What is your current role(s) and relevant experience of/interests in diabetes:

I am currently about to embark on my consultant journey and being acting up at the start of April and have recently confirmed my substantive appointment as a Consultant Diabetologist commencing in October 2024. I have broad ranging experience clinically and sub-specialty interests including young adults, type 1 diabetes, and national recognised expertise in diabetes technology. What is your involvement in ABCD activities to date. I have worked as an ABCD research fellow for the last 5 years and have supported the development and delivery of the ABCD audit programme. Additionally, I have previously been co-opted to the ABCD and DTN-UK committees having previously been chair of YDEF.

Please tell us why you want to stand for election and what you feel you can contribute to the ABCD Committee

I am passionate about continuing to work with ABCD and foster links between ABCD, YDEF and advocate for those in my position - the transition period between trainee and Consultant. I want to continue to promote the high impact work we are undertaking via the ABCD audit programmes and promote this work widely and expand what we are doing through the use of systems such as Eclipse. I bring experience of organising events from YDEF and working with industry partners in this role. I want to continue to promote equality and diversity within representation as a proud member of the LGBTQ community. I strongly believe my breadth of experience in leadership and work with ABCD to date make me an ideal candidate for this role.
